Participation at Congregation Level:

As senior pastor, I'm in one way or another involved in everything. Here's what I'm most passionate about:

- + Imagining God's preferred future together and setting plans in action
- + Participating in similar vision conversations with organizations in partnership with the congregation, such as synod, conference, social service organizations, mission teams.
- + Being God's people together: connecting with people and accompanying the congregation and community
- + Equipping and sending the church to participate in the work God is already doing to share hope, healing, and peace with all people through new and existing connections
- + Engaging the scripture with the whole assembly, with all God's children of every age and across cultural realities
- + Praying with others
